One of last year's best soul and funk albums was 'Side Stepper' from Aussie band The BAMBOOS... and some of that LP's best cuts featured the vocals of KYLIE AULDIST. Those turned on by that music will be delighted to learn that KYLIE unleashes her second solo set in August. 'Made Of Stone' sees the lovely lady backed once again by the BAMBOOS with band leader LANCE FERGUSON (LANU) in the producer's chair. The music's a big mix of soul, funk, and classy pop with a hint of the Caribbean to guarantee a summer flavour. The ear-worm that is 'In A Week, In a Day' is already getting spins from the most discerning of DJs... full review at www.soulandjazzandfunk.com very soon
