

NEW SWING OUT SISTER ALBUM

Written by Charles Waring
Friday, 04 April 2008 10:15

Long-running duo, SWING OUT SISTER - comprising singer Corinne Drewery and keyboard player Andy Connell - has just released its ninth studio album, 'Beautiful Mess.' At the moment, it's a Japanese-only release with a European release expected to follow later in the year. Those addicted to the duo's stylish melange of Bacharach-esque pop and uptown soul will be pleased to know that the album is available directly via the group's own websites: www.swingoutsister.co.uk and www.myspace.com/swingoutsister06

A full review will follow soon at www.soulandjazzandfunk.com