Billboard readers and followers of contemporary gospel will know all about ANTHONY BROWN AND GROUP THERAPY. The ensemble's latest single 'I Got That' is currently enjoying three Billboard gospel music nominations as it rises to the top of American gospel charts (both sales and airplay). Boasting what we're told is the new "trap beat" sound, the lyrics celebrate traditional triumph-over-tribulation motifs though the sound is totally contemporary and urban.

The song is the centrepiece of the outfit's latest album, 'A Long Way From Sunday' which offers plenty more of the same groundbreaking urban gospel sounds though traditional call and response and classic harmonic gospel music is never far way.
