All real soul fans retain a soft spot for the great Phyllis Hyman and Phyllis fans might have been enjoying a revival of her Skip Scarborough song, 'No One Can Love You More' from Aston Grey. It's being played regularly on several soul stations.

Well if you like the song you'll be delighted to know that there's another excellent and respectful version available right now. It comes courtesy of Ohio born and raised soulstress L A Young. Ms Young has a fine CV including work with Pieces Of A Dream and right now she's hooked up with multiple Grammy winner, producer/writer Jonathan Lesane. Their current big project is 'The Phyllis Hyman Story: An Uncompleted Life' ... a bio show set to open Stateside in spring... hence the release of 'No One Can Love You More'. Also in Ms Young's planning is an intriguing 'Legends of R&B' project.... an album of duets with Grammy Award winning soul stars like the Temptations, The Spinners, The Platters, The Realistics and more.

In the meantime enjoy L A Young's 'No One Can Love You More' at your favourite download portal.
