

TRIPPIN' DOWN MEMORY LANE....

Written by Bill B

Tuesday, 12 March 2019 20:30 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 March 2019 20:54

Last autumn we enthused about a sweet n lovely long player from the equally sweet n lovely LYNNE FIDDMONT. 'Power Of Love' was (indeed is) a classy, sophisticated soul affair that showed the experience and artistry that Lynne has honed over her many years as one of the US's top session and background singers.

The album boasted many wonderful cuts – like a cover of Lou Rawls' 'Groovy People'. Another key track was Lynne's take on Minnie Riperton's 'Memory Lane'. Well, that very track has just been released as a new single and it comes highly recommended. Ms. F doesn't put a foot wrong – staying faithful to the original yet still managing to put her own spin on proceedings.