Followers of UK soul/jazz guitar maestro DAVE MASCALL will be familiar with his tune, 'What You Want To Be'. The jazzy, housey tune featured on his very first 'Acid Lounge' album and recently he resurrected it on his last long player – 'Acid Lounge 5' (see our reviews archive). Dave clearly likes its vibe and to make his point he's released it as a single in a new, faster 123bpm Franklin D mix. As you can imagine it really zips along but has lost nothing of its jazz feel while Julia Quinn's vocal remains upfront. It's available now via Dave's web site.
